Draft Day Sigs look solid. Upgrade from last year.

Wow, that review might be among the most unimpressive I've ever seen on here for a release before. Feeling a little uninspired?

5.

Kevin W 28 June, 2017 at 09:16

Derek Carr has no insert card. What's up with that? He should at least be in the stars of the nfl. I will not be buying much of this!

6.

Jason wagner 26 April, 2018 at 20:29

Home come when I buy a blaster box it says hardware card has a peace of nfl helmet in it buy none ever do?

Ryan Cracknell 27 April, 2018 at 09:49

@Jason — That sounds like something Panini customer service would be best to address.

Im having trouble identifying the rookie short prints #291-300. Does anyone know a way to distinguish which ones are or arent the proper SPs? Do they have a holo/refractive look and do they say xtra points or how can i tell?

Im having trouble identifying the rookie short prints #291-300. Does anyone know a way to distinguish which ones are or arent the proper SPs? Do they have a holo/refractive look and do they say xtra points or how can i tell?

Steve 23 June, 2017 at 12:03

Is Chicago Starting Strong Safety Harold Jones-Quartey gonna have a card? 86 tackles last year.

3.

Bill 23 June, 2017 at 12:09

I noticed that too, Jeff. I really don't like most of the Panini products. These look like those early nineties Fleet cards that were overly colorful for overly colorful's sake.

Saying that, one of my favorite players is Damon "Snacks" Harrison so I will be at least ordering that and the rest of the NY Giants for my collection.

Joseph abrams 23 June, 2017 at 12:55

Does it bother anybody that this looks like Elite.

5.

IamNotARobot 7 August, 2017 at 17:29

Ugly, just like last year, with an unparalleled amount of parallels. Also, does it bother anyone else that second year players are still getting player worn jerseys instead of game worn material?

goblue 8 August, 2017 at 12:03

You hit the nail on the head, IamNotARobot, about the player worn jerseys instead of the game worn, which they should be. Inexcusable in my opinion.

Kerry 10 August, 2017 at 12:20

I started watching an online break and got really confused about which cards are base and which are parallels, so I shut it off and just checked out the hit recap later, which was still color-confusion!

Steve 23 June, 2017 at 12:03

Is Chicago Starting Strong Safety Harold Jones-Quartey gonna have a card? 86 tackles last year.

3.

Bill 23 June, 2017 at 12:09

I noticed that too, Jeff. I really don't like most of the Panini products. These look like those early nineties Fleet cards that were overly colorful for overly colorful's sake.

Saying that, one of my favorite players is Damon “Snacks” Harrison so I will be at least ordering that and the rest of the NY Giants for my collection.

Joseph abrams 23 June, 2017 at 12:55

Does it bother anybody that this looks like Elite.

5.

IamNotARobot 7 August, 2017 at 17:29

Ugly, just like last year, with an unparalleled amount of parallels. Also, does it bother anyone else that second year players are still getting player worn jerseys instead of game worn material?

goblue 8 August, 2017 at 12:03

You hit the nail on the head, IamNotARobot, about the player worn jerseys instead of the game worn, which they should be. Inexcusable in my opinion.

I started watching an online break and got really confused about which cards are base and which are parallels, so I shut it off and just checked out the hit recap later, which was still color-confusion!

Does it bother anyone else that UNPARALLELED has “more than 20 parallels”?!?!?!?

Steve 23 June, 2017 at 12:03

Is Chicago Starting Strong Safety Harold Jones-Quartey gonna have a card? 86 tackles last year.

3.

Bill 23 June, 2017 at 12:09

I noticed that too, Jeff. I really don't like most of the Panini products. These look like those early nineties Fleet cards that were overly colorful for overly colorful's sake.

Saying that, one of my favorite players is Damon "Snacks" Harrison so I will be at least ordering that and the rest of the NY Giants for my collection.

Joseph abrams 23 June, 2017 at 12:55

Does it bother anybody that this looks like Elite.

5.

IamNotARobot 7 August, 2017 at 17:29

Ugly, just like last year, with an unparalleled amount of parallels. Also, does it bother anyone else that second year players are still getting player worn jerseys instead of game worn material?

6.

goblue 8 August, 2017 at 12:03

You hit the nail on the head, IamNotARobot, about the player worn jerseys instead of the game worn, which they should be. Inexcusable in my opinion.

7.

Kerry 10 August, 2017 at 12:20

I started watching an online break and got really confused about which cards are base and which are parallels, so I shut it off and just checked out the hit recap later, which was still color-confusion!

It's an interesting base design and the inserts look good. Another possibility if the hobby boxes are under $100.

2.

Kerry 24 August, 2017 at 15:14

All other sites about this product say there are only 2 packs of 7 cards per box, not twelve packs per box.

o

Ryan Cracknell 24 August, 2017 at 16:53

@Kerry — Thanks. Got it fixed. I do assure you the sell sheet did originally say 12 packs. Looks like it was switched up.

Tyler Sullivan 24 August, 2017 at 21:28

I love how the release from Panini says it's a "new product built from the ground up", yet it's essentially just mash-up of Elite and Unparalleled. Plus it's sad that we're almost to week 1 of the NFL season and have not had a single Myles Garrett auto or jersey card yet. I realize he's a DE for the Browns, but there is still a market for the guy. Just seems strange to me he's been M.I.A. in all brands.

o

Ryan Cracknell 28 August, 2017 at 11:26

@Tyler – It is possible that the reason Garrett doesn't have any autographs or memorabilia could be in part on his end. Players need to sign agreements.

IAmNotARobot 25 August, 2017 at 09:50

Another Panini clone that looks like Elite.

5.

James 20 September, 2017 at 14:22

This is SPX.

Joseph abrams 20 September, 2017 at 17:53

BORING!!!!!! This looks like Elite, Phoenix, Certified , etc..... Just what the hobby needs another high product.

It's an interesting base design and the inserts look good. Another possibility if the hobby boxes are under $100.

2.

Kerry 24 August, 2017 at 15:14

All other sites about this product say there are only 2 packs of 7 cards per box, not twelve packs per box.

o

Ryan Cracknell 24 August, 2017 at 16:53

@Kerry — Thanks. Got it fixed. I do assure you the sell sheet did originally say 12 packs. Looks like it was switched up.

I love how the release from Panini says it's a "new product built from the ground up", yet it's essentially just mash-up of Elite and Unparalleled. Plus it's sad that we're almost to week 1 of the NFL season and have not had a single Myles Garrett auto or jersey card yet. I realize he's a DE for the Browns, but there is still a market for the guy. Just seems strange to me he's been M.I.A. in all brands.

o

Ryan Cracknell 28 August, 2017 at 11:26

@Tyler – It is possible that the reason Garrett doesn't have any autographs or memorabilia could be in part on his end. Players need to sign agreements.

Another Panini clone that looks like Elite.

This is SPX.

BORING!!!!!! This looks like Elite, Phoenix, Certified , etc..... Just what the hobby needs another high product.

It's an interesting base design and the inserts look good. Another possibility if the hobby boxes are under $100.

Kerry 24 August, 2017 at 15:14

All other sites about this product say there are only 2 packs of 7 cards per box, not twelve packs per box.

o

Ryan Cracknell 24 August, 2017 at 16:53

@Kerry — Thanks. Got it fixed. I do assure you the sell sheet did originally say 12 packs. Looks like it was switched up.

I love how the release from Panini says it's a "new product built from the ground up", yet it's essentially just mash-up of Elite and Unparalleled. Plus it's sad that we're almost to week 1 of the NFL season and have not had a single Myles Garrett auto or jersey card yet. I realize he's a DE for the Browns, but there is still a market for the guy. Just seems strange to me he's been M.I.A. in all brands.

o

Ryan Cracknell 28 August, 2017 at 11:26

@Tyler – It is possible that the reason Garrett doesn't have any autographs or memorabilia could be in part on his end. Players need to sign agreements.

Another Panini clone that looks like Elite.

This is SPX.

BORING!!!!!! This looks like Elite, Phoenix, Certified , etc..... Just what the hobby needs another high product.

It's an interesting base design and the inserts look good. Another possibility if the hobby boxes are under $100.

2.

Kerry 24 August, 2017 at 15:14

All other sites about this product say there are only 2 packs of 7 cards per box, not twelve packs per box.

o

Ryan Cracknell 24 August, 2017 at 16:53

@Kerry — Thanks. Got it fixed. I do assure you the sell sheet did originally say 12 packs. Looks like it was switched up.

Tyler Sullivan 24 August, 2017 at 21:28

I love how the release from Panini says it's a "new product built from the ground up", yet it's essentially just mash-up of Elite and Unparalleled. Plus it's sad that we're almost to week 1 of the NFL season and have not had a single Myles Garrett auto or jersey card yet. I realize he's a DE for the Browns, but there is still a market for the guy. Just seems strange to me he's been M.I.A. in all brands.

o

Ryan Cracknell 28 August, 2017 at 11:26

@Tyler – It is possible that the reason Garrett doesn't have any autographs or memorabilia could be in part on his end. Players need to sign agreements.

Another Panini clone that looks like Elite.

This is SPX.

BORING!!!!!! This looks like Elite, Phoenix, Certified , etc..... Just what the hobby needs another high product.

A collector for much of his life, Ryan focuses primarily on building sets, Montreal Expos and other interesting cards. He's also got one of the most comprehensive collections of John Jaha cards in existence (not that there are a lot of them).

I've moved to Score after Topps stopped doing football. I like that you continue to offer a product that new collectors and those on a budget can enjoy.

The best thing about Score Football is it is affordable to everyone. Panini is making to many high price sets with very few cards per box. If they keep it low priced and lots of cards it may bring back the hey day of cards. At the rate they are going it will price the collecting out of reach. I use to collect all of Topps, Score, Donruss, & Upper Deck. Now I only buy about 3 different sets. I cannot afford any More. Thats what makes Score so nice and lots of fun to open. Make more low price set, lets get thee kids involed again.
Thanks R

I have been an avid Football collector since 1974. I absolutely love football cards. Since the hobby has made it an exclusive for just one company , it has hurt the collector in my opinion. I love the 1989 Score set way more than the current one. Honestly I would love to see a Pro Set type set come back. Collectors in my opinion have been forgotten over time.

I Bought a Retail Box with 11 Packs, 12 cards per Pack. I was REAL UPSET as I opened them & about 75% of the Cards had SMASHED Corners. I DID NOT Pay for Damaged Cards. I tried to Return them, But they told Me they DO NOT Take returns on OPEN Sports Cards. I can Understand that, But IT WAS NOT MY FAULT. IT WAS A FACTORY MISTAKE.

bowman's best called,
thy want their designs back

Ryan Cracknell 18 February, 2018 at 22:18

@deez — Select hasn't changed its design a whole lot over the past few years.

Brian Abeyta 18 February, 2018 at 14:47

It could be nothing, but I swear that Ryan Switzer's Concourse RC is different than any other I've seen.

The continuation of color from the inner half moon, sits behind the word Select. It isn't a stadium pic either.
